NEW QUESTION: 1

An action is issued from a fixlet to an IBM Tivoli Endpoint Manager (TEM) client that runs the action and reports back with Pending Restart. The action expires and two days later the system running the TEM client reboots. The source fixlet for the action becomes non-relevant on the TEM client but the action status does not update to Fixed. What is the reason for this?

- A. TEM clients can only update their status with respect to open actions.
- B. There are communication issues between the TEM client and the main TEM server.
- C. The TEM client only keeps statuses for the last 24 hours.
- D. A system reboot was not part of the action so the TEM client does not update its status with respect to it.
