In biometric identification systems, the parts of the body conveniently available for identification are:

- A. voice and neck
- B. hands, face, and eyes
- C. feet and hair
- D. neck and mouth

Answer: B

Explanation:

Today implementation of fast, accurate, reliable, and user-acceptable biometric identification systems are already under way. Because most identity authentication takes place when a people are fully clothed (neck to feet and wrists), the parts of the body conveniently available for this purpose are hands, face, and eyes.
