Explanation:

A PDF Portfolio consists of multiple files assembled into an integrated PDF unit. The files in a PDF Portfolio are in a wide range of file types made in different applications. For instance, a PDF Portfolio can contain text documents, e-mail messages, spreadsheets, CAD drawings, and PowerPoint presentations. The original files maintain their individual identities but are assembled into one PDF Portfolio file. A user can open, read, edit, and format each component file independently of the other component files in the PDF Portfolio.

Following are the advantages offered by PDF Portfolio over merging multiple files into a single PDF.

Layouts and themes: It customizes a user's PDF Portfolio with unique layouts and visual themes. Color palettes and backgrounds give more visual interest.

Adding and deleting: It adds or removes files easily, without having to find and select all the pages that originated in that file.

Previewing: It quickly previews component files without having to open them in their native applications.

Editing: It modifies individual files within the PDF Portfolio without affecting the other files.

Distribution: It shares a PDF Portfolio with others and ensures that they are getting all the component parts.

Sorting: It simply clicks a column name to sort the list.

Reordering: It drags files to change their order.

Printing: It prints all the PDFs in a PDF Portfolio, or selected component PDFs.

Searching: It searches one or all files in a PDF Portfolio.

Incorporating other formats: It adds non-PDF files to an existing PDF Portfolio without converting them to PDF.

Independence from source files: The source files of a PDF Portfolio are not changed when the user creates a PDF Portfolio.

Reuse: It includes the same file in multiple PDF Portfolios.
