NEW QUESTION: 1

- A. Option B
- B. Option D
- C. Option C
- D. Option A

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2

You need to design the disaster recovery solution for customer sales data analytics.

Which three actions should you recommend? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

A. Use zone redundant storage.

B. Migrate users, notebooks, and cluster configurations from one workspace to another in the same region.

C. Provision multiple Azure Databricks workspaces in separate Azure regions.

D. Provision a second Azure Databricks workspace in the same region.

E. Migrate users, notebooks, and cluster configurations from one region to another.

F. Use Geo-redundant storage.

Answer: C,E,F

Explanation:

Scenario: The analytics solution for customer sales data must be available during a regional outage.

To create your own regional disaster recovery topology for databricks, follow these requirements:

1. Provision multiple Azure Databricks workspaces in separate Azure regions

2. Use Geo-redundant storage.

3. Once the secondary region is created, you must migrate the users, user folders, notebooks, cluster configuration, jobs configuration, libraries, storage, init scripts, and reconfigure access control.

Note: Geo-redundant storage (GRS) is designed to provide at least 99.99999999999999% (16 9's) durability of objects over a given year by replicating your data to a secondary region that is hundreds of miles away from the primary region. If your storage account has GRS enabled, then your data is durable even in the case of a complete regional outage or a disaster in which the primary region isn't recoverable.

Overview

NEW QUESTION: 3

Matt, the network engineer, has been tasked with separating network traffic between virtual machines on a single hypervisor. Which of the following would he implement to BEST address this requirement? (Select TWO).

- A. NAT
- B. Virtual switch
- C. Access-list
- D. VLAN
- E. Disable spanning tree
- F. System partitioning

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

A virtual local area network (VLAN) is a hardware-imposed network segmentation created by switches. A virtual switch is a software application that allows communication between virtual machines. A combination of the two would best satisfy the question.

Incorrect Answers:

- B. NAT converts the IP addresses of internal systems found in the header of network packets into public IP addresses.
- C. System partitioning has to do with separating data on a physical hard disk.
- D. The purpose of an access list is to identify specifically who can enter a facility.
- E. STP creates a spanning tree within a network of connected layer-2 bridges (typically Ethernet switches), and disables those links that are not part of the spanning tree. Disabling it will not solve the problem
