NEW QUESTION: 3

The PRIMARY reason for initiating a policy exception process is when:

- A. users may initially be inconvenienced.
- B. operations are too busy to comply.
- C. policy compliance would be difficult to enforce.
- D. the risk is justified by the benefit.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

Exceptions to policy are warranted in circumstances where compliance may be difficult or impossible and the risk of noncompliance is outweighed by the benefits. Being busy is not a justification for policy exceptions, nor is the fact that compliance cannot be enforced. User inconvenience is not a reason to automatically grant exception to a policy.

NEW QUESTION: 4

An application sends Azure push notifications to a client application that runs on Windows Phone, iOS, and Android devices. Users cannot use the application on some devices. The authentication mechanisms that the application uses are the source of the problem.

You need to monitor the number of notifications that failed because of authentication errors. Which three metrics should you monitor? Each correct answer presents part of the solution

- A. Apple Push Notification Service (APNS) authentication errors
- B. Microsoft Push Notification Service (MPNS) authentication errors
- C. Google Cloud Messaging (GCM) authentication errors
- D. Channel errors
- E. Windows Push Notification Services (WNS) authentication errors
- F. External notification system errors

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

You must provision your app with one or more of the following services:

Microsoft Push Notification Service (MPNS) for Windows Phone devices

Apple Push Notification Service (APNS) for iPad and iPhone devices

Google Cloud Messaging service (GCM) for Android devices

Windows Notification Service (WNS) for Windows devices
