You are developing a Windows Presentation Foundation (WPF) application.

The application consists of: - A window that contains controls organized into groups. - Groups that are ordered vertically and that have individual headings.

Controls within the groups that are ordered horizontally. Groups and controls that will be added dynamically at run time. You need to ensure that the application meets the following requirements:

--

The window must be resizable without affecting the layout of the controls. The controls within the groups must be laid out such that there is a minimum amount of spacing between groups. What should you do?

- A. Use a WrapPanel control to organize the groups with its Orientation property set to Vertical. Use WrapPanel controls to organize the controls with their Orientation property set to Horizontal.
- B. Use a ListBox control to organize the groups. Use Canvas controls to organize the controls.
- C. Use a Grid control with its VerticalAlignment property set to Stretch to organize the groups and specify the row definitions. Use Grid controls to organize the controls and specify the column definitions.
- D. use a StackPanel control to organize the groups with its Orientation property set to Vertical. Use StackPanel controls to organize the controls with their Orientation property set to Horizontal.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2

A company has a multi-tier application that runs six front-end web servers in an Amazon EC2 Auto Scaling group in a single Availability Zone behind an Application Load Balancer (ALB). A solutions architect needs to modify the infrastructure to be highly available without modifying the application. Which architecture should the solutions architect choose that provides high availability?

- A. Create an Auto Scaling template that can be used to quickly create more instances in another Region
- B. Modify the Auto Scaling group to use three instances across each of two Availability Zones
- C. Change the ALB in front of the Amazon EC2 instances in a round-robin configuration to balance traffic to the web tier
- D. Create an Auto Scaling group that uses three instances across each of two Regions

Answer: B

Explanation:

High availability can be enabled for this architecture quite simply by modifying the existing Auto Scaling group to use multiple availability zones. The ASG will automatically balance the load so you don't actually need to specify the instances per AZ.

The architecture for the web tier will look like the one below:

CORRECT: "Modify the Auto Scaling group to use four instances across each of two Availability Zones" is the correct answer.

INCORRECT: "Create an Auto Scaling group that uses four instances across each of two Regions" is incorrect as EC2 Auto Scaling does not support multiple regions.

INCORRECT: "Create an Auto Scaling template that can be used to quickly create more instances in another Region" is incorrect as EC2 Auto Scaling does not support multiple regions.

INCORRECT: "Create an Auto Scaling group that uses four instances across each of two subnets" is incorrect as the subnets could be in the same AZ.

DRAG DROP

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Discovery Management: Administrators or users who are members of the Discovery

Management role group can perform searches of mailboxes in the Exchange organization for data that meets specific criteria and can also configure litigation holds on mailboxes.

Records Management: Users who are members of the Records Management role group can configure compliance features, such as retention policy tags, message classifications, transport rules, and more.

Recipient Management: Administrators who are members of the Recipient Management role group have administrative access to create or modify Exchange 2013 recipients within the Exchange 2013 organization.

Help Desk: Users who are members of the Help Desk role group can perform limited recipient management of Exchange 2013 recipients. The Help Desk role group, by default, enables members to view and modify the Outlook Web App options of any user in the organization. These options might include modifying the user's display name, address, phone number, and so on. They don't include options that aren't available in Outlook Web App options, such as modifying the size of a mailbox or configuring the mailbox database on which a mailbox is located.

Organization Management: Administrators who are members of the Organization

Management role group have administrative access to the entire Exchange 2013 organization and can perform almost any task against any Exchange 2013 object, with some exceptions. Of the groups listed, the Organization Management group is the only that can create and manage security groups.
